

 The Institute for Science & Interdisciplinary Studies and Solidaridad Colombia present

Plan Colombia: Political, Ecological & Social Implications of US Drug Policy in Latin America

Five College Lecture Series - April 3-5, 2001

SPEAKERS:

- Sanho Tree, Drug Policy Program Director at the Institute for Policy Studies, Washington DC
- Regulo Madero, President of CREDHOS, a Colombian human rights organization
- Carlos Alberto Palacios, former priest, current organizer of the Putumayo Peaceful Coexistence Project
- Rachel Massey, Enviro. Research Foundation consultant, author of Echoes of Vietnam & Casualties of the War on Drugs Plus local Witness for Peace Delegates, recently returned from Colombia
- Kate Harris of Amherst, environmental educator and Western MA Green Party coordinator, and
- Tad Montgomery, Environmental Engineer from Montague, MA

Public Health Threat to Water and Life

Tuesday April 3, 12:00PM - 1:30PM

Greenfield Community College (270 Main St. Downtown)

(Tad Montgomery, Regulo Madero, Carlos Palacios, & Sanho Tree)

Human Rights in Colombia: Repercussions of US Aid

Tuesday April 3, 7:00 PM

UMass: Campus Center Auditorium

(Panel discussion w/ Regulo Madero, Carlos Palacios, Sanho Tree, Kate Harris, & Tad Montgomery. Intro by local labor/globalization activists)

Origins & Implications of a US Foreign Policy

Wednesday, April 4, 4:30 PM

Amherst: Cole Assembly Room, Converse Hall

(Sanho Tree and Witness for Peace Delegate)

Colombia & Beyond: US Role in Latin America

Wednesday, April 4, 7:30 PM

Smith: Wright Hall Auditorium

(Sanho Tree and Witness for Peace Delegate)

Environmental & Social Costs of Coca Eradication

Thursday, April 5, 7:30 PM

Hampshire: Franklin Patterson Hall, West Lecture Hall

(Rachel Massey, Sanho Tree, and Witness for Peace Delegate)

Co-sponsored by: American Friends Service Committee; Amherst College Foreign Policy Forum; Citizens for Participation in Political Action; Five College Lecture Fund; Five College Center for Crossroads in the Study of the Americas and Program in Peace & World Security Studies; Greenfield Community College; Hampshire College Environmental Studies Program and Office of Alumni Relations; Institute for Science & Interdisciplinary Studies; Smith College Latin American Studies Program; Mount Holyoke Department of Sociology & Anthropology; Solidaridad Colombia; Traprock Peace Center; UMass Center for Latin American, Caribbean, & Latino Studies and Department of Social Thought & Political Economy.

For further information contact ISIS @ 413-559-5582 or AFSC @ 413-584-8975.

All ISIS events are smoke- and fragrance-free to ensure accessibility. Thanks for your consideration!